The Cranmer Choir had an amazing trip to the Tower of London last Thursday to prepare them for singing in the Water City Music Festival in June.

We saw the Crown Jewels and learned about the Tower’s history as a prison, fortress, palace and menagerie, as well as taking part in a fun, interactive workshop where we had to solve a mystery about an escaped prisoner by looking back in time to see how it had been done before.

It was a pretty wet and miserable day in Central London, but we still had lots of fun and feel ready to sing about everything we saw and learned about.
Parents’ P4C Sessions

At Cranmer, the children take part in weekly Philosophy for Children sessions to develop their creative, critical, caring and collaborative thinking.

We would like to invite you to parent taster sessions for P4C. This will give you an opportunity to take part in a philosophical enquiry over two dates: Friday 5th July 2.45-3.15pm and Friday 12th July 2.45-3.15pm.

The sessions will take place in Sunstone room in Court building.

If you would like to secure a place and are available to attend both dates, please email: headspa@cranmer.merton.sch.uk

Living streets is a charity which has created the national ‘Walk to School celebration’ where pupils and grown-ups around the UK unite for one week of walking to school. If you’re a parent or carer there are lots of ways they can help get you and your family walking. Check out their ‘Walk to school kit’ available online (https://www.livingsstreets.org.uk/walk-to-school/parents).
